

Welcome

Welcome to the December newsletter.

I hope everyone is settling into the cold winter nights and staying as cosy as they can. Please read on for some great ideas on how to spend the time indoors productively over this winter season.

Christmas Operating Hours

The office will be closed Wed 23rd Dec to Friday 2nd Jan. All lessons will run over the Xmas period. It is between tutors and their clients to agree what (if any) lessons are to be cancelled over the Christmas period. Some tutors are happy to continue working in the Christmas break and others need a well-earned rest. Please speak with your tutor to discuss your preference.

Touch Typing

Get your child or yourself to learn to touch type over the Christmas break. A lifetime skill that comes in handy over and over again. In a digital world keyboards are everywhere. Being able to touch type is a skill for life and also highly beneficial skill for Dyslexics and those who struggle with literacy.

Visit our website to read the full blog and other interesting and helpful things too.

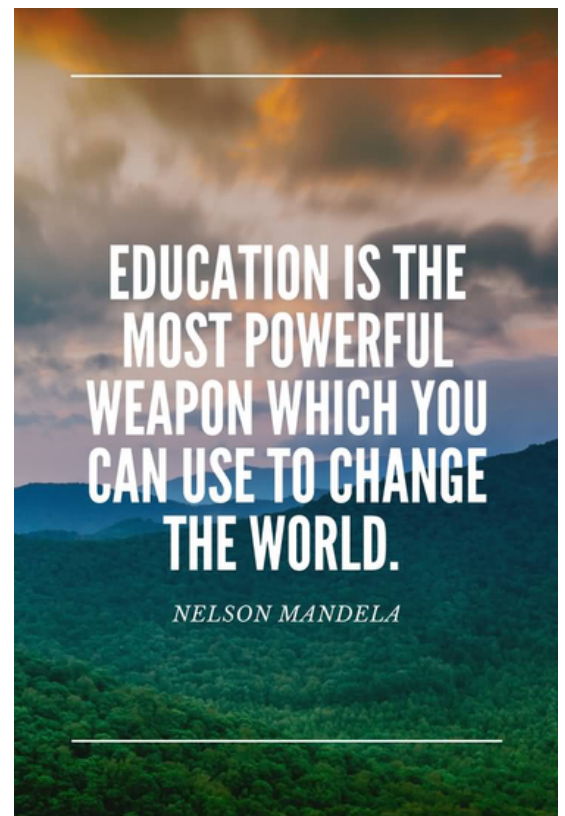

Blogs

As well as touch typing, there are many blogs to read through on our website including Exam success, Grammar schools - prepare your child and Common Sense in Education.

Tutor Hall of Fame

As always, a special thank you to all of our amazing tutors, you have all worked so hard and we have had some fantastic reviews from our wonderful clients.
